Fees and Funding

Funding: We offer classes and workshops that are partially funded by grants and certain restrictions and requirements may apply. The use of grant funding helps make classes more affordable to the community. Scholarships are also available to students with financial hardships.

Instructor fees are $35 per hour for instruction during workshops. Instructors holding open studio time and classes will have an agreed upon adjusted fee based on the particular class requirements and level of instruction needed.

Material fees: Instructors are responsible for securing the appropriate supplies and materials for the class. However, the material list should be discussed with the art center before purchasing to determine what supplies, if any, the art center has for class use. The Instructor will be reimbursed for all required materials with the submission of receipts or an invoice.

Class fees: The class fee is a combination of the instructor fee, the cost of materials and an additional fee to cover the cost of marketing and operating a class in the art center. The fee may be reduced based on applicable grant funding.

Invoicing and Payment

To receive payment for class instruction, the instructor must submit the student class sign in sheet and receipts and/or an invoice for materials purchased or used for the class.

Cancellation and Class Policy

- Minimum students: The art center requires a minimum of 5 students per class. Instructor may raise the minimum number of students to help spread the fixed class costs, if needed.

- Cancellation by the art center: If the minimum enrollment is not met two days prior to the class, the class will be canceled.
- Refund policy: No refunds will be given for missed classes. If a student is unable to attend they may transfer their registration to someone else to attend their class. Refunds will be given only if the art center cancels a class.
